

Expats Interview Guidelines

It is great to hear from you and we love that you want to contribute to ExpatWoman.com by completing an Expat Interview. It fits perfectly with our ethos here as a website that is written for women by women.

Our readers love to hear from women across the globe and their experiences with expat life. Together we can offer advice and connect with women worldwide. It is encouraging to hear from women who understand what it is like to be in your shoes and help you settle in to a vast landscape that is to be your new home.

It's really easy to contribute to our Expat Interviews. All you need to do is to follow these 3 easy steps:

- 1) Sign up as a member on ExpatsWoman.com
- 2) Fill out the interview form below
- 3) Send your completed interview to contribute@expatswoman.com

Please note that this will be published on a medium that shares advice, guides and information with other expats around the globe.

In return for your time, your Expat Interview can have one external link to your chosen link. But they must be one of the following:

- Social media page (Facebook, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn and so on)
- Not-for-profit website
- Blog

Please remember that the purpose of your interview is to share your experiences on your expat journey, therefore ExpatWoman.com will not advertise or share blogs purposely or directly on the website – we will only promote your interview.

If you wish to broaden your presence on ExpatWoman.com, and would like to share your work, experiences and blog further you may do so by contributing an editorial piece. ExpatWoman.com website attracts over 30 million page views annually and over 4 million unique visitors. Please feel free to contact at contribute@expatswoman.com should you wish to enquire further.

Thank you for offering to complete an Expat Interview about the country and area you live in- this will really help people learn more about the expat experience in your neck of the woods! If you could send some pictures of where you live or even you that would be great too- but don't worry if not possible. We need about 400 words in total. Please email the filled in doc (or copy and paste direct into an email if you prefer) to contribute@expatwoman.com
