

---

Posted on 9 December 2014

by Liz Robb

Christmas snowflake biscuits

Ingredients

225g self raising flour
 120g golden caster sugar
 Half a teaspoon of ground cinnamon
 Half a teaspoon of ground ginger
 120g soft margarine
 1 egg
 A little milk
 For the snowflakes:
 A tube of white icing
 White sugar snowflakes

Preparation

- 1 1. Preheat the oven to 180 degrees or 160 degrees fan oven. Line two baking sheets with greaseproof paper.
- 2 2. Sieve the flour into a large bowl, add the sugar, cinnamon and ginger and mix together.
- 3 3. Cut the margarine into small pieces and drop it into the bowl. Rub it into the flour mixture lightly with your fingertips until it looks like breadcrumbs and there are no big lumps of margarine left.
- 4 4. Make a well in the centre of the mixture. Beat the egg and pour it into the well, a little at a time, using a knife to mix it in until it all begins to come together. [You may need to add a small splash of milk if the egg isn't enough.] Then use your hands to form it into a dough.
- 5 5. Roll out the dough fairly thinly on a lightly floured surface. Dip the cutters into flour then cut out the biscuits and place them on the baking trays, not too close together. Bake for 12-15 minutes, until the edges are turning golden brown.
- 6 6. Allow to cool for a few moments after taking them out of the oven, then carefully lift them onto a cooling rack.
- 7 7. Decorate the snowflakes by placing a blob of white icing on each point and in the centre, then pressing a sugar snowflake onto each blob.
- 8 8. Decorate the trees by drawing a zigzag line from the top to the bottom with the red icing, then attaching white chocolate stars at intervals using the icing.
- 9 9. Store in an airtight container.
- 10 Notes:
- 11 - I used self raising flour so these biscuits rise a little, and are quite soft and crumbly in texture. You can use plain flour if you prefer a flatter, harder biscuit.

- 12 – If you don't have tubes of icing, you can easily make it from icing sugar and a few drops of water or lemon juice, and food colouring if you want coloured icing.

Cooks Note

Have fun with your children this Christmas making and decorating these simple festive biscuits!

These delicious biscuits are lightly flavoured with cinnamon and ginger. I made them in the shapes of snowflakes and Christmas trees, but there are so many Christmas cutters, coloured icings and cake decorations available now, you can take your pick!

You can easily make them into Christmas decorations to hang on the tree, or for the children to give as homemade gifts; just make a hole with a skewer near the top of each biscuit before you bake them, then thread through some coloured ribbon when they have cooled down.

This amount of dough will make at least 12 snowflakes biscuits.

---